Club exhibits Valentine arrangements

The following will weary old timers, but it's a chore we must go through annually for the benefit of newcomers, most of whom are amazed over the prospect of their first Mardi Gras. The largest club exhibit is, of course, the S. Joseph Academy Carnival Ball Club sponsored 33rd annual fair. Some are under the mistaken impression that it is a custom affair, but the court is selected from these specially prominent in the vicinity, as are the king and queen. The actual ball begins at 9 p.m. in the gymnasium and continues to by the admission price of $2., funds going to benefit the school.

The gym is always beautifully decorated and this year's theme, which we're not at liberty to disclose, will lead itself to a really fabulous background. When the curtain opens the court of who is king is revealed. He then greets each lady-in-waiting as she is escorted to join her date and they promenade around the floor. As each enters the queen builds until her majesty's approach is heralded by trumpet fanfare. The queen then joins his highness on the stage and all enjoy entertainment in keeping with the theme. This year Beverly (Mrs. Mickey) Graham's dancing school pupils will entertain. The affair is climaxed by dancing of the reigning pair and court.

Midnight supper
The king's midnight supper, held at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, is by invitation and it's a really gay party with a buffet, lots of bubbly and dancing.

Speaking of gay parties, Denizens of the Deep (Bay-Waveland Yacht Clubbers) cut their caper Saturday night under somewhat inclement weather conditions. King Neptune was kept dry by use of Leo Seal's boat, and the band played under the porch, so rules really didn't dampen anyone's enthusiasm. Laurie Poindester drew the gold bracelet to rule on queen. Her ladies-in-waiting were Margaret Kishner, Gerry Gary (a most attractive new recruit), Ray Esh and Georgeanne Thompson. All men were masked and didn't reveal their faces until after about six dances and by that time conviviality was at its height. Standard March was exceptional in a long red floral nightgown, red checkered top complete with confederate and we will have a bona fide to find out who was the most convincing pugna. Last celebration wandered home shortly before 5 a.m.

Krewe of Calypso
And if they think things were rough this weekend, just wait until next. Many who attend the SJA (Society of Junior Artists) ball will take in Caroline and Bill Angus' Krewe of Calypso ball the following night which is just about the busiest ball held yearly in these parts.

We want to congratulate ladies of Bay-Waveland Garden Club for at least attempting to plant a tree on Arbor Day, last Thursday. Due to the inclement they had to give up the idea but on our side the tree, to be in memory of first garden club president, the late Mrs. E.P. Kirpatrick, had by this time been entrenched in the ground. Margaret (Mrs. Wobbe) Otto was faithful to the last and ended up with her automobile firmly bogged down in the back yard of the Garden Center.

Lots Morgan was the most recent and curiously injured victim of a tree eater hole. Her car hit one on Leaveland and she suffered lacerations, bruises, etc., and spent five days in Hancock General as a result of the accident. The thing occurred as she was attempting to return home from the bowling alley.

Storky doings
Hal and Fred Hoagland caused much excitement when they calmly walked into Geo Stevens' for lunch Friday. Hal was carrying a tiny infant and Fred followed with a baby holder (we don't know the proper name, as they came into use long after our were carrying mine). It was daughter, Mary, and husband, Dave Carter's, little one, but a number of amusing remarks, especially one from Gerald Galt, had everyone in stitches. Incidentally, the Hoaglands celebrated 24 years of wedded bliss, this month.

All kidding aside, come really on the card's history includes Carol and Andy Martindale, and we're sorry, we are a bit vague as to whether this will make the total 7, or maybe 9??? Virginia and Rudy Johnson, and we thought those cute little "mamma dresses" Linda (Mrs. Henry, Jr.) Hatzimona has been wearing were just a new style, but they're apparently for a more practical reason.

Deep mystery
Who was the lady, in search of a little "dog hair" after the Denizens ball, who invaded a new cocktail... barman and chicken fuel she thought she was pouring orange juice into the glass.

We were a little premature before, but Lou and John Wilkerson moved into their brand new home two days before Christmas, and Lou says he's heavenly with cozily twice as many rooms as the last before.

Mrs. get well wishes on the weather conditions just plain feel. Ray Ward to convalescing from pneumonia; Ethelene (Mrs. Lillian) Corrigan to in Hancock General for a series of tests; John Jacob was ailing with a cold last week, (a cold! That was double circumstances!) so to just about everybody else in town.

Betty (Mrs. Edward P.) Phillips has returned home after attending a round of balls in the Coconino City over the weekend. Among these were balls of Agnes and Athanasios in which her guests and numerous, Frances Elizabeth Moore was a lady-in-waiting to the queen. She was also present at a luncheon sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Waring, a party given by Mrs. V. Wilson and co-sponsored by a group of young women at the Garden Center.

Large red horns crowned with magenta flowers formed the center attraction of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's Valentine's meet last Thursday at the Garden Center.

Mrs. Richard Sallinger, chairman, presided and presided over arrangements employing musical and dry material.

The Arbor Day ceremonial was planned to honor the club's first president, the late Mrs. R. P. Kirpatrick, was cancelled due to bad weather. In its stead Mrs. Waldo Otto gave a memorial.

Mrs. Herbert Finlay, president, was in charge of the business session at which it was announced that John McClellan will deliver a talk on birds to the Junior Garden Club next month.

The tea table held a red and white cloth decorated with a red heart and cornucopia of red and white carnations. Mrs. Otto was hostess for the afternoon assisted by Misses, Ben Hill, J.R. Schaff, R.O. Verbeek, Charles Dickson, Martin Baum, Walter Russo, E.N. Spence and Frank Hill.

Mrs. Hughes
at Monticello
Mrs. Joe Hughes, extension home economist in Hancock County since 1960, will leave March 1 to assume a similar post in Lawrence County.

Her resignation was accepted with regret by the board of supervisors Monday. A replacement is expected to be designated shortly by the extension service headquarters at State College.

Mrs. Hughes told the board she had enjoyed working with the people of Hancock County and was leaving because the new assignment would be closer to her elderly parents who have not been in good health. She will live in Monticello.

The agent came here from her family home, McComb, where she had been assistant economist for Pike County, supervising at Calhoun Haven. Mrs. Hughes' experience as a worker in come of the (Cont. on Page 3)

Logtown petition countdown told

Higher hundred and thirty-two of the county's qualified electors voted for the bond issue and have 1,535 signatures on the petition.

So Robert F. Linder, county superintendent of education, informed school board officials on a county-wide petition drive to obtain voter approval on the transfer of Logtown School seats from the board sitting final to the building fund.

Linder explained, "The board of supervisors wanted to get a majority of the people who voted on the bond issue to agree to transfer those seats. To get that majority we would only need 450 signatures."

With 9,424 voters registered in Hancock County, Linder said his count of 1,535 means that nearly 60 per cent of the people were in favor of the transfer. "We found that about one in a hundred didn't agree with the transfer," Linder claimed.

Other board members who had worked through the week obtaining voter approval agreed with this estimate.

"We could have easily got more names," said Linder, "but some folks were hard to find and we were so far ahead that we just stopped."

By house the totals given by Linder were, Beat 1, 336; Beat 2, 42; Beat 3, 353; Beat 4, 623 and Beat 5, 354.

An additional 40 plus signatures were received prior to the conference with the board of supervisors but no breakdown on their residence was available.

Linder told the supervisors that voter approval was assured by a clear majority of 211.

"Holt of 3,400 voters, a round figure estimate, equals 1,700. Add the deciding vote to this and that gives a total of 1,701. We, at the time we were before the supervisors, had a total of 1,912 signatures or 211 more than the 50 per cent majority," Linder explained.

Actually the figure was in error. Earlier Linder had stated there were 3,486 registered voters. This would take his majority down to 166 at the time he was before the supervisors. On his combined total now on hand and taking the figure back to the 3,486 full voter count Linder once again is able to show his 211 superiority count.

He felt the board should represent its policies and see to it that they are carried out. He also said "If teachers and principals do not have time to talk to parents and other interested people, then we may have to schedule Saturday mornings for this."

Earlier the board listened for about 45 minutes to a delegation of about 30 who wanted the board not to rescind Price's contract. Johnny Wallace, chairman of Veterans Civic Organization, was a primary spokesman, and emphasized that the principal concern of that group was "better schools". He reiterated earlier complaints about the way Price ran Valena C. Jones School, particularly personal relations.

McClure reported he had already directed that all Valena C. Jones funds be turned into his office to be carried on a separate account. This is already the procedure with the other schools, he said.

Hamilton suggested the new high school grounds be fenced except where bordered by a road. He said he felt that, with subdivisions being prepared on two sides of the school, there would be less chance of controversy over property lines if this was done.

Architect Charles Proffer, who is supervising the school system's building program, reported by letter that the new Bay High construction is running behind due to the weather, but the addition at Waveland school is nearly complete as is Valena C. Jones except for the stage and bandroom additions.

On the basis of Proffer's estimate the board authorized the following payments: W. McCraig, $24,021.93; E. C. Barnett Co., $6,167.16; Martin School Equipment Co., $6,120.00; Mississippi Mechanical, $11,730 C.C. McDonald, Jr., $10,131.25; Servanor Electric, $629.19 and Charles Proffer and Associates, $917.65.

Reading payment also was authorized of transportation district numbers 53 thru 61 and district maintenance district numbers 539 through 437.

Logue... (Cont. from Page 1)

Five other doctors in support of continuing Logue's contract. Others were Drs. Henry Magglio, W.L. McFarland, Charles J. Cox, M.J. Webb and M.L. Dabson. Logue also gave the trustees a similar letter from various department heads supporting the administrator. This letter observed, "There is a nucleus of opinion present in the hospital which, if given time, will resolve itself as Mr. Logue will have to take more drastic steps but of this he is aware."

Dolph Kellor, Beat 2 member of the board of supervisors who sat in on the meeting, told the trustees he understood the nurses had been asked by one of his colleagues to appear at last Monday's meeting. He emphasized he was not the person and assured trustees should not feel supervisors were trying to run the hospital. Kellor's statement came after several trustees protested they had informed all employees after the last round that all complaints should come to them.

Dr. McFarland inquired if trustees had not told the nurses last November if they did not bring complaints to the board it meant automatic dismissal? Trustees said this was not accurate.

As Duckworth launched a poll of the board, Rebaul declared Logue had done a better job in the last few months than all the years before but said he favored a six month extension trial. When the administrator inquired whether Rebaul wanted him to function as a caretaker as one physician apparently had suggested, the trustees countered he had filed that letter "in the proper place."

Clifton Seuder of Beat 3, board vice president, moved that Logue be granted a new three year contract. Others talked in terms of six months to a year, indicating general concurrence with Rebaul's remarks. John D. Rutherford, Jr., and John C. Montgomery observed they might not be on the board three or five years hence and should not dictate to a future

Major Foyard, Ricardo Laurie Kingman, Jo Ann Carver and Carol Kingman, plus various local government officials. Mayor Seuder will ride with Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Holmes, manager of Bay at Mississippi Total Facility; Commissioner J. Cyril Glover with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Grove of North America Aviators at MTF; and Commissioner Warren Trumb with Mr. and Mrs. Leticia Cox, Jr., from General Electric Co. at MTF. Waveland Mayor Griffith Linder will be with the band of officers.

McClure reported reception for the Bay High Invitational Tournament to be $1,107.00 with a net after expenses of $761.46 of which Bay High received one-half or $523.93.

After some other business on the agenda was considered, Charles Genscholtz said he had phoned his wife and she had authorized him to tender her resignation from the nursing staff because of lack of confidence in the administration. Genscholtz, Deane and Bonaventura departed, the latter asking for a copy of the administrator's contract. Duckworth told him it would be on file in the office.

After the administrator reported on his trip with Seuder to Atlanta in search of federal aid for the proposed 150-bed installation, he presented his charges against Dr. Martinovich. He is the physician who represented a group of nurses last fall in appealing to the trustees to removal of both Logue and the then director of nursing, Mrs. Marlene Hart. Logue displayed a large file which he invited all to inspect. Besides listing medical charges, the administrator accused the physician of demoralizing the nurses in front of patients by discussing their ages and general abuse of personnel. He complained the doctor also talked too long at cases with some nurses, keeping them from their duties.

Supervisors ordered an "all out investigation" of hospital operations after another squabble involving that institution flared up last week. Hubbard called for the probe when several persons associated in one way or another with the complaints walked into the meeting room. The city may install some 50-inch lines but with only 18-inch pipe at the seawall it will not work, he observed. It may be that the city could pay for the difference in cost so as not to have to dig up a sand beach at a later date.

Supervisors ordered an "all out investigation" of hospital operations after another squabble involving that institution flared up last week. It was indicated the board will hire an attorney especially to undertake the study since Sam L. Favre, Jr., whose firm is now the supervisors' attorney, also represents the hospital.

Hubbard called for the probe when several persons associated in one way or another with the complaints walked into the meeting room. Dolph Kellor of Beat 2 observed the step might "just put more iron on the fire" but he did not dissent when Jack Lott moved for the study and Charles Lavignehouse seconded. H.G. Dean of Beat 1 was absent from the session.

$48,000. The clerk's receipt book showed a total of $28,157.91 already earmarked for school building and one transfer to the 16th Section principal fund which would have to be repaid.

It appeared that the money for the three other easements is still in the federal court depository, along with the Logtown money. Ninety per cent of the NABA deposit can be drawn down now, pending final action on the litigation. Steps to draw the money are to be taken this week. It was understood, and validation of the $380,000 bond issue is underway so that the school construction contract can be awarded.

Superintendent Linder acquired supervisors that with the 50 per cent of the Logtown money—$104,000—and $38,480.99 on 16th Section—all the program needs should be covered. Ray Bamber, Jr., Beat 1 trustee, wanted to know if the schools could finance; how it is being run, particularly with respect to charity cases and "to stop the fighting." As for instructions the supervisors are trying to run the plant, Hubbard said, "all we've done is pump money into the kitty... probably more than any other county in the state." Progress county levy provides three mills for the hospital.

PROCLAMATION Mardi Gras Day

SINCE Mardi Gras Day is the eve of the Lenten season and has been observed for many years in this section of our land, and
SINCE our people are entitled to recreation and recreation at least one day from their worldly cares, it is fitting at this time that we observe Mardi Gras by taking part in the activities and pleasures of the day and so in consideration of the above,
THEREFORE be it proclaimed that I, John A. Scalfie, Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, do hereby proclaim that TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1966, be a holiday in Bay St. Louis and that it be enjoyed fully in the sense intended.
WITNESS my signature and official seal of the City of Bay St. Louis, this 14th day of February, A. D., 1966.

Come in and take on a tiger!

The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker.

And that's removable.

Take it off, and there's just a handsome Pontiac: crisp, wide-track styling and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the performance performance of a new, overhead cam engine that puts out with all the punch of an 8, yet saves like the traditional 6. And of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, and more.

practically everywhere. And like all Pontiacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package with items like seat belts to buckle-front and rear. (That ought to do for now. We'll tell you the rest when you get here.)

Rose Henley is bride of John Christensen

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding at 11 a.m. Saturday of Rose Anna Thomas Henley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Thomas, and John Gregory Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George John Christensen of New Orleans.

Mrs. James J. Hannon celebrated the nuptial mass before the altar which was adorned with arrangements of white gladioli and mums in tall gold vases. Mrs. John McGinnis was organist.

The new wedding procession of the church was used the first time here at the service. The maid of honor, Miss Irene Thomas, sister of the bride, and the best man, Robert Christensen, the groom's brother, walked together down the aisle, followed by the groom, then the bride, escorted by her father. The monsignor and the altar boys, Dennis Godfrey and Max Ginnell, III, came last and then the entire party proceeded to the altar.

Ushers were William Thomas, brother of the bride, and Richard Christensen, brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas entertained the wedding party, members of the two families and out of town guests at a reception later at their home on Carroll Avenue. According to the punch bowl was Mrs. Gustave Thomas, Jr., aunt of the bride.

The couple left afterwards for a wedding trip to Dauphin Island, Ala. They will reside briefly on Blue Meadow Road until their home on Oak Boulevard, Waveland, is ready for occupancy.

The groom's parents were hosts Friday night after the rehearsal at a buffet dinner at Broadview Restaurant.

Among those from out of town here for the wedding were the groom's grandmother, Mrs. R.M. Prices of New Orleans his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Christensen of Lake Charles, La., and a number of other relatives from New Orleans Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Luc of New Orleans, formerly of Bay St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Yates, Jr., of Metairie, also formerly of here.

Eskimo art films to be shown

Two short motion pictures, part of a Canadian exhibit now travelling across the United States, will be screened during the Hancock Art League's meet at 8:30 p.m. today in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic School cafeteria.

Dealing primarily with Eskimo art the two movies, Living Scenes and Komiukuk, have been made available through the Canadian Consul in New Orleans.

Expressing the showing was not limited to league members Mrs. Wayne Ducumb, president, asks that anyone interested in this form of art expression is very welcome to attend.

Mrs. Ducumb also stated she is hoping the league can obtain the static display of Eskimo carvings and illustrations that forms the balance of the show. "We hope to display the complete exhibit in the near future," she said.

Hawks fly high

in upstate matches

Coach Roland Lott's Hancock North Central Hawks found up their regular season with the best record in the state, 23 wins and two losses.

The Hawks completed a two-game tour of Mississippi's Yazoo-Mississippi Delta region Saturday night with a close, overtime 57-55 victory over East and North Central. Friday night the Hawks scored over Philadelphia, 163-81.

By beating the two highly-regarded schools, the Hawks earned status they are not to acquire any more this year. Their next outing is slated for 6:15 p.m. tonight in the District 8 A Tournament at Parkville Junior College when they meet the winner of Pearl River Central - Lumberton High, KNC is top seed in the country.

The Hawks managed to hold North Central to a 21-21 deadlock in the first quarter but the Hawks came back roaring in the second to score 33 points against 23 for the opponents to lead 54-41 at intermission.

They did it again in the third quarter, 32-23, but coasted in the final frame and Philadelphia again earned a tie, 20-20. The lead from up north was on a 20-point, scoring 20 points in every quarter except the first when they made 21.

The opening Venable Lott coached Hawks played in 37 points against ed by Kory Reed and Paul Green with 23 each. Jerry Jordan, Hancock's leading scorer, had 20 points and 10 rebounds.

The Hawks will play a midweek game, Monday, at Hancock Central. Monday night the Hawks will play at East and North Central.

Field named after coach Dobie Holden

The board of trustees of Pearl River Junior College announced Monday that the school's new basketball field has been named T.D. Dobie Holden Stadium in honor of coach Dobie Holden, head football coach and athletic director at PRJC for 15 years.

Holden has compiled a record of 180 victories, 84 losses and six ties. He has won eight state championships and two national titles. He was named coach of the year in 1951.

He has directed many of Leno Lupton's protégés from Bay High and has been recently coaching last year's camp.

Perkinston site of Dist. 8 tilt

All local high school players who survived earlier tournament competition will be in action again this week attempting to advance to state honors.

In Class A competition, North Central boys and girls will see action in the District Eight Tournament in the Perkinston Junior College gymnasium which opened Sunday.

Defending champs, the Hawks, are top seeded and play their first game at 6 p.m. tonight against either Pearl River Central or Lumberton. Last night the Hawks were placed in Double East Central. Both HNC squads won their last tournament.

Quarter-finals are tonight and four semi-finals Friday night. The girls' finals will be at 7:30 Saturday followed by the boys' championship game at 9.

Coch Roland Lecher's Hawks are odds-on favorites to win the district cup. Pearl River Central's girls are defending champs but the Hawks, after a successful season under coach-of-the-year Paul Thomas, are figured to at least make it to the finals. The four finalists will advance to the South Mississippi Tour-

Roland W. Ford

Funeral services were scheduled for today at Gulfport for Roland William Ford, 66, who died Tuesday at Parkway Nursing Home at Hammond, La., where he had been living for 14 months.

A resident of the coast for 40 years, including Bay St. Louis and Bilbo, he had been married to Mrs. Mary Ford, nee Charles, for 34 years. He was a retired commercial fisherman.

Survivors include the widow, one daughter, one son, Tony Ford, Pearl River Central's 10th-grade basketball star, and one brother, one sister, and one nephew.

Hermos Trudocu

Funeral arrangements are pending for Herman T. Trudocu, 70, who was found dead Wednesday at his home, 730 Second St., Waveland. An inquest jury empaneled by acting coroner Nelson Lecher with Charles Fawcett as holdout ruled death by a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

A retired employee of Jackson Brewery, New Orleans, Mr. Trudocu had lived here about 25 years. He was the former city engineer, died in May, 1959. They had no children. City nurse supervisor in the immediate vicinity to a neighbor, Melvin Trudocu, deceased, or neighbor, Mr. Fawcett, Mr. Trudocu was found by a neighbor, Mr. Charles A. Harvey, who notified Sheriff Sylvia J. Lecher.

The remains are at St. John's Catholic Church in Gulfport with burial in Evergreen Gardens.

Martin Nichols

Martin E. Nichols, 58, of Gulfport, died Friday at E. J. Menzies of the Mississippi Avenue, died Monday at Gulfport Memorial Hospital where he had been for seven days. An active of St. Andrew's, P.M., Mr. Nichols had lived in Gulfport since 1945 and was a member of Colonial Building Co. He served with the Seabee in World War II.

The funeral was Wednesday from St. John's Catholic Church in Gulfport with burial in Evergreen Gardens.
